

A photograph of a snowy outdoor scene. In the foreground, a large, black, ornate lantern with a peaked roof and a small finial on top is illuminated from within, casting a warm glow. The lantern has a textured, possibly weathered, surface. In the background, several people are standing on a snow-covered ground. They are wearing winter clothing, including dark pants and boots. The scene is dimly lit, suggesting dusk or dawn. The overall atmosphere is cold and serene.
